FRANCHISE ENDORSED
DIRECTORS ELECTED

CITIZENS' ASSOCIATION MET LAST EVENING FOR AN-NUAL MEETING.

PROMINENT MEN FOR FRANCHISE

Members of Association Voiced Views on Extension Matter—Sentiments Expressed What Dixon Men Who Know Think of Franchise.

The Citizens' association met last evening at the city hall and elected nine directors to act during the ensuing year. The motion was made by Attorney E. H. Brewster that all of last year's members, with the exception of himself, be returned to their positions, and he named A. P. Armstrong as his candidate to succeed himself. He then put the motion in form of a nomination and Attorney Wingert moved that the secretary be instructed to cast the 'unanimous ballot of the entire association for the nominees, which motion carried.

The names of the directors selected are: E. N. Howell, W. C. Durkes, W. B. Brinton, O. H. Martin, C. H. Stiteley, A. P. Armstrong, H. C. Dixon, H. U. Bardwell and Thomas Young.

Franchise Discussed.

Chairman E. N. Howell, as there was no further business to transact, then called for views on the franchise proposition. Almost everyone present expressed their ideas on the franchise extension, what it would do for Dixon, etc., and with one exception they were all strongly in favor of the proposition.

With one exception the gentlemen present all took a liberal, public-spirited view of the matter and stated in no uncertain terms that the adoption of the franchise was the very best thing that Dixon could do and that we had a golden opportunity within our grasp, one of which nearly every other nearby city was envious, and they expressed no doubt but that the voters of Dixon would embrace this promise of prosperity and that the count of today's vote would carry us a great way in the progressive direction. Among the men who openly favored the franchise were:

Dr. Stevens, Judge Scott, Attorney Wingert, E. N. Howell, Harry Warner, Attorney E. H. Brewster, R. A. Rodesch, James Sterling, Prof. Snyder, E. C. Parsons, John P. McIntyre and Thomas Young.

NACHUSA FELL FROM BICYCLE
THIS MORNING.

HAS CONCUSSION OF THE BRAIN

Front Wheel Collapsed, Throwing Lad to Pavement Head First—Accident Happened on North Galena Avenue, Dixon.

Mark, the 15 year old son of Rev. J. M. Herbst of Nachusa, was critically injured in a fall from his bicycle while riding on North Galena avenue this morning, when the front wheel of his machine broke suddenly, throwing him headforemost to the pavement.

The accident occurred just before noon while the lad was riding in front of Chiverton's meat market, a short distance north of the bridge. When found the lad was in a semi-conscious condition and the attending physicians, Bokhoff and Ives, were unable to ascertain whether or not he had suffered a depressed fracture of the skull. He is now suffering from a partial concussion of the brain.

He was taken to the home of his parents by Dr. Bokhoff and telephone communication with his father this afternoon elicited the information that he was resting as easily as could be expected, but that the full extent of his injuries could not be determined for a few days, or until the extreme swelling had been reduced. The boy has many friends who will hope for his speedy recovery.

WARD MILLER IS NOW WITH CUB REGULARS

MANAGER CHANCE SWITCHES
LINEUP, LEAVING DIXON STAR
IN CIRCUS SOLLY'S GARDEN.

Dixon fans read with interest this morning the announcement that Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago Cubs had made a switch in the lineup of his team, which will put Ward Miller of this city, in with the regulars. The switch will put Zimmerman, who has been playing first, on third, bring Hoffman in from center to cover Zim's old position and send Miller into the outfield in Circus Solly's position. Miller was sent in yesterday's game as a pinch hitter and made good with a bingle. His friends will hope for his continued success with the Cubs after he gets into the game steadily. He will be second man at bat, following Sheekard.

It was voted to hold the convention at the Presbyterian church, and Dr. Altman of the Lutheran church was selected to make the opening address.

Among the contracts he has closed are three for chautauqua lectures in Iowa under the auspices of the Nebraska General Lyceum Bureau of Omaha; and also a contract with the Oakdale Campmeeting of the Evangelical church, at which he will have charge of the Bible study.

MISTAKE CORRECTED.

In last Thursday's paper there was reported the unseemly actions of a man whose name was mistakenly given as Scott Morris. It has since been learned that the party referred to was a different man entirely.

Thirteen.

Portland, Ore., May 14—Special to Telegraph—Three hundred persons were rendered homeless today when a raging fire swept Seaside, one of the largest summer resorts in the state.

With the exception of two buildings, the entire business section of the city was destroyed, and part of the residence section was wiped out by the fire demon.

The flames, augmented by a high wind, spread so rapidly that they were quickly beyond the control of the local fire organization, and for a time it seemed that the entire town would be reduced to ashes. Distress calls were sent to Astoria, however, and the fire departments in that city responded with such alacrity that they succeeded in saving a large portion of the residence district. The loss is estimated at about $350,000.

Thirteen Buried.

Superior, Wis., May 14—Special to Telegraph—Thirteen men were buried alive in a cave-in at Norrmine at Ironwood, Mich., last night. But two of the bodies have been recovered. The cave-in was entirely unlooked for and came without sufficient warning to allow the men any possibility of escape.

NURSES ASSOCIATION
TO MEET IN DIXON

ILLINOIS STATE NURSES, THREE THOUSAND STRONG, SELECT DIXON AS CONVENTION CITY.

ACCEPT MISS CASEY'S INVITATION

Superintendent of Local Hospital Uses Her Influence to Induce the Nurses to Come to Dixon—Convention in June, 1913—Big Plans To Be Made.

At a meeting on May 8, in Galesburg, of the Illinois State Nurses' association, that organization accepted an invitation to make Dixon their convention city for next year.

Sometime during May, 1913, the nurses, three thousand strong, have decided to convene in annual meeting for two days. The importance of the event to Dixon is very large and the credit of getting the convention here is due to Miss Casey, superintendent of the Katherine Shaw Bethesda hospital in Dixon. It was in response to her invitation that the nurses decided to come here to hold their convention, in the beautiful little city on the banks of the historic Rock river. Miss Casey received a letter today from Mrs. W. E. Eache, Secretary of the State Association of Nurses, telling her of the association's acceptance of the invitation to come to Dixon.

Between now and May, 1913, the citizens of Dixon will make their plans and the nurses of Illinois will be shown that they made no mistake in selecting Dixon as their convention city, and that Dixon is delighted to receive them.

As stated above there are three thousand members in the organization, and probably half of them will be present at least one of the two days.

AWAITING HIM.

Freeport, May 14—Chas. W. Leibhart, an agricultural implement man who also sometimes dabbles in politics and was a member of the last board of review, was surprised when he returned home late yesterday afternoon to find workmen busy on the roof. He was still more astonished to find that they had placed on his dwelling an excellent rubberoid roof. Inquiry brought out the fact that the workmen had been told to put a new roof on the home of former Sheriff J. R. Leigh. Mr. Leibhart's next-door neighbor, and had mistaken the house. It is said that the roof cannot now be removed and so Mr. Leibhart seems to be a roof to the good.

SET TRAP FOR JURIST

Secretary Makes Charges Against Boland.

Says Coal Dealer Sought to Discredit Judge Archbald Because of Adverse Court Ruling.

Washington, May 14.—A purported deliberate plan of W. P. Boland, Scranton (Pa.) coal dealer, who originated the charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court, to entrap the jurist in an embarrassing transaction was revealed here before the house judiciary committee, which is investigating the case.

Allan Cockrell, confidential secretary of the interstate commerce commission, read to the committee his memorandum of W. P. Boland's original statement of charges against Judge Archbald. Boland, according to the memorandum, told Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer that he purposely sought to entrap Judge Archbald in the Katydid culm bank transaction, after a demurrer in a suit against his coal company had been decided against him in Judge Archbald's court.

Boland declared that he sent E. J. Williams to Archbald to lure him into the Katydid culm option deal with the Erie railroad, after Williams had come to him with Judge Archbald's $500 note for discount. Boland refused to discount the note and subsequently his demurrer was decided against him.

J. H. Rittenhouse of Scranton, a civil and mining engineer, testified that the number of tons in the Katydid culm dump aggregated more than 90,000. It was negotiated for in the option from the Erie by Williams and Judge Archbald as something over 40,000 tons.

SCOTT'S SUFFERING OVER

Doctors Advised An Operation. How She Escaped Told By Herself.

Buckner, Mo.—"For more than a year I suffered agonies from female troubles and the doctors at last decided there was no help for me unless I went to the hospital for an operation. I was awfully against that operation, and as a last resort wrote to you for special advice and I told you just what I suffered with bearing down pains, backache, shooting pains in my left side, and at times I could not touch my foot to the floor without screaming. I was short of breath, had smothered spells, felt dull and draggy all the time. I could not do any work, and oh how I dreaded to have an operation.

"I received a letter full of kind advice, which I followed, and if I had only written her a year ago I would have been saved so much suffering, for today I am a well woman. I am now keeping house again and do every bit of my own work. Every one in this part of the country knows it was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that has restored me to health, and everywhere I go I recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. LIZZIE SCOTT, Buckner, Mo.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DEMENTTOWN

We knew it would be that way all the time. (See first page).

Now that it's all over the world will resume the even tenor of its way.

After standing around absorbing a couple of hundred arguments on the franchise question we are ready to can the word:

Listen.

Did Dixon stay awake? This question is respectfully indited to the Sterling Gazette and Standard.

Don't see any of those fellows who yelled so loudly about "buying" and "bought," hurrying to get that $500 do you? Should be easy money for anyone who is so all-fired wise.

Down town they speak of us as creme dementtown.

There is only one worse bore than the fresh air fiend and that is the gink who always wants the doors and windows closed for fear he'll catch cold.

The most absent minded man in town has been discovered. He walked clear home Saturday and forgot his wife who was waiting down town for him.

What the poor fellow got when she finally did get him is left to the gentle reader's imagination.

What Is a Hero?

(Ed's Note—Answers from our readers, to the above question, will be published daily as received. The first appears today).

P. A. L. —A hero is a feller who can stand and listen to a socialist talk about the trusts without getting mixed up in an argument.

Concerning Dieting.

A certain business man, whose name we dare not mention because of superior size and strength, announced to a bunch of his anxious friends yesterday that he was dieting and in proof he pulled his trousers out at the waistline, exposing shrinkage of about six inches—not in the trousers, either.

And about three minutes after telling how much he was dieting and how easy it was, he entered his place of business, prepared and ate the following sandwich:

Two slices white bread.
Two thick slices of cold boiled ham.

Two pieces of brick cheese, each 3-8 inches thick and
A liberal application of mustard.
Whereupon we are constrained to ask, is this justice to the word "dieting?"

PRESIDENT HITS ROOSEVELT HARD

Denounces Colonel as Dangerous Egotist, a "Flatterer and a Demagogue."

SLASH AND STING IN WORDS

Says Ex-President Does Not Resemble Lincoln—Gets Applause for Assertion He Has Turned Deficit Into $40,000,000 Surplus.

Cambridge, O., May 14.—Casting to the winds his policy of defense, President Taft, in a whirlwind of verbal aggression, assailed Theodore Roosevelt here and denounced him as a dangerous egotist, a "flatterer and a demagogue."

A crowd of several thousands howled their delight when the president put stings and slashes into almost every word. Mr. Taft began to take the offensive back at Caldwell, where he devoted most of his speech to the most bitter arraignment he has yet made of Colonel Roosevelt and his relations with Director Perkins of the harvesters and steel trusts and the immunity which these two interests enjoyed during the regime of the colonel. Even the members of the president's own party were amazed when he walked out on the platform at Cambridge and, speaking of his late friend, said:

Raps Roosevelt Hard.

"It's I, I, I, all the time. You'd suppose there wasn't anybody in the country who could do this job but Mr. Roosevelt. Suppose you feed that egotism and vanity and put him in office with a sense of power and a disregard of constitutional restrictions. It would be dangerous to the country. I hold that the man is a demagogue and a flatterer who comes out and tells the people they know it all. I hate a flatterer. I like a man to tell the truth straight out. I hate to see a man try to honeydew the people."

"Mr. Roosevelt is continually comparing himself to Lincoln, to whom he bears less resemblance than any man of whom I know in the history of the country," the president continued.

Contrast in U. S. Finances.

Although the weather when Mr. Taft spoke at Caldwell was cold and raw, with occasional rain showers, the crowd filled the station and frequently applauded his references to his administration and his thrusts at Colonel Roosevelt. The president reviewed the legislation enacted during his term in the White House. His contrast of a Roosevelt deficit in the government coffers of almost $50,000,000 with a surplus of $40,000,000 drew the first cheers.

ALL YOU NEED IS A CASCARET TONIGHT

NO SICK HEADACHE, BILIOUS STOMACH, COATED TONGUE OR CONSTIPATED BOWELS BY MORNING.

Turn the rascals out—the headache, the biliousness, the indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day in distress. Let Cascarets cleanse and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Children like to take Cascarets, because they taste good—never gripe or sicken. o'clock.

FISH SUPPORT TOWN

Anchovy Found in Large Quantities in Holland.

Fact Is Not Widely Known—Supposition That Mediterranean Sea Has Monopoly of Industry Is Erroneous.

The Hague, Holland.—The coast of arms of Enkhuizen, one of the dead cities of the Zuyder zee, bears three silver fishes, which, it is explained, are anchovies; for Enkhuizen owed a great part of its prosperity to the anchovy fisheries.

It is generally supposed that the anchovy is caught exclusively in the Mediterranean sea, so it comes as a surprise to most people to hear that it is so largely caught off the coasts of Holland. Dutch fishermen have been familiar for ages with the fact that the anchovy comes up in great shoals at certain times of the year and enters the Zuyder zee to spawn.

There have, however, been considerable lapses of time when no anchovies at all appeared, and when it was feared that the Dutch fisher folk had lost their means of earning a livelihood, then, suddenly, without any apparent reason the shoals of fish again became regular visitors. These last few years the anchovy has been particularly plentiful. Many a Zuyder zee fisherman has made his living for the whole year during the anchovy season, which lasts from six to eight weeks, and as much as 1,000 florins ($400) worth have been known to be taken in a single day.

Formerly the method of capturing a shoal of anchovy consisted in stretching an enormous net with small meshes between two boats. This net touched the sea bottom. Then the boats hoisted sail and the more wind here was the better pleased were the fishermen. They sailed on for a while and then when the net was lifted it contained thousands of silvery fishes. After on they preferred to fish with stationary nets, because more fish could be caught in that way. Each fisherman places his own nets in a certain part of the sea, and after a while comes to see whether they have been filled with fish.

The anchovy brings plenty of work or many another category of persons than the regular fishermen. For the fish have to be cleaned, salted and packed into casks. The cleaning is done almost exclusively by women and children, the salting occupies the "salters" and the making of the many asks employs a little army of coopers. Then the packing is also done by experienced hands in such a way that the anchovy can be kept for many years without spoiling.

The herring fishers also often secure millions of anchovy near the coasts of Holland. For as soon as they perceive a shoal coming their way they will fix anchovy netting into their herring nets, and so often secure almost miraculous hauls. The anchovy is a small fish, the full grown specimen being only fifteen centimeters (5.9 inches) long. The back of this fish is bluish and the under parts are white, glistening like silver in the sunshine.

MONKEYS BURNED TO DEATH

Menagerie Burns and Animals, Unable to Escape From Cages, Huddle Together and Are Smothered.

London.—Ten valuable monkeys and two dogs were the victims of a fire in a menagerie in Hackford road, Brixton.

Shut up for the night in cages three or four in each, the animals had no opportunity of escape, and although the fire brigade were on the scene within a few minutes and the fire quickly put out, it was too late to save them. When the fire was extinguished the dead monkeys were brought out, still in their cages, and placed in the yard. They presented a truly pitiable sight. Lying in the blackened straw in a huddled mass—several in each other's arms—they seemed to have collected together as if seeking protection from an unknown foe.

Topeka, Kan.—That he would not perform a marriage ceremony unless the bride and groom passed examinations showing themselves to be mentally, morally and physically fit to enter matrimony was the announcement of Rev. Let every minister refuse to perform marriage ceremonies until physicians have produced certificates, and it will not be long until the children brought into the world all will be well born."

Walks Ten Miles Asleep.

Lakeview, Ore.—Miss Nellie Porter, twenty years old, arose from her bed and while still asleep walked ten miles, and was found at 3 o'clock in the morning, when she fell exhausted upon the porch of the Glidden residence in New Pine Creek, fifteen miles south of here.

She did not know how she had reached the Glidden home. The last she remembered was going to bed at the home of the family for whom she worked, three miles away. Her tracks were followed through the fields, woods, over rocks and through creeks which she had forded.

ELECT SENATORS BY POPULAR VOTE

House Passes Resolution Declaring for Constitutional Amendment.

STATES' SOLONS MUST RATIFY

Measure Provides for Federal Supervision of All Senatorial Elections—Full Text of Bill—Final Vote Was 237 to 39.

Washington, May 14.—By a vote of 237 to 39 the house passed the resolution declaring for an amendment to the Constitution providing for the direct election of United States senators. The resolution has already passed the senate. The amendment thus initiated by congress, must be ratified by three-fourths of the state legislatures before it will become law.

The resolution, as modified by the senate, on motion of Senator Bratton, provides for federal supervision of the senatorial elections. This provision was fought by members from the south, led by Representative Bartlett of Georgia, who held that federal interference would lead to a return of carpet bagging. As passed the resolution is as follows:

Text of Resolution.
That in lieu of the first paragraph of section 3 of article 1 of the Constitution of the United States, and in lieu of so much of paragraph two of the same section as relates to the filling of vacancies, the following be proposed as an amendment to the Constitution, which shall be valid to all intents and purposes as part of the Constitution when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

The senate of the United States shall be composed of two senators from each state, elected by the people thereof, for six years; and each senator shall have one vote. The electors in each state shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the state legislatures.

When vacancies happen in the representation of any state in the senate the executive authority of such state shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies, provided that the legislature of any state may empower the executive thereof to make temporary appointments until the people fill the vacancies by election as the legislature may direct.

This amendment shall not be so construed as to affect the election or term of any senator chosen before it becomes valid as part of the Constitution.

It was only after a stubborn resistance of ten years that the senate yielded to this reform.

There were cheers and applause when the speaker announced that the measure had received the two-thirds majority required for a Constitutional amendment and it was predicted that the reform would be accepted by a sufficient number of states to incorporate it into the Constitution.

Popular Vote Two Years Away.

The majority of the state legislatures meet next January and each will probably act on the amendment as speedily as possible. In the cases of other states there will be no legislatures for another year so it will be at least two years before the voters will have an opportunity to go to the polls and vote for a senator as they would for a congressman, even if ratification is prompt and general.

Representative Bartlett of Georgia started the fight against the resolution which had passed the senate by offering an amendment which provided that congress shall not have the power or the authority to determine the qualifications of electors of United States senators, nor to authorize supervisors, judges or returning boards for those elections, nor to use United States marshals or troops at the polls for the election of senators.

Representatives Kahn and Knowland of California were the only Republicans to vote for the Bartlett amendment, which was defeated 189 to 89.

Those voting against the resolution on its final passage were: Adamson, Bartlett, Bell, Broussard, Canler, Collier, Dickson, Dupree, Edwards, Estep, Faison, Flood, Floyd, Glass, Goodwin, Gregg, Hardy, Hay, Harrison (Miss.), Holland, Howard, Hughes (Ga.), Humphreys, Jacobway, Lee, Macdon, Moore (Tex.), Oldfield, Roddenberry, Saunders, Sisson, Slayden, Stephens (Miss.), Tribble, Turnbull and Witherspoon, Blackman, Brantley, Dent.

DROVE HORSE INTO DITCH.

Joe Merritt drove his horse into an open ditch in front of Reid & Burright's barn Saturday evening, breaking the buggy and slightly injuring the horse. The ditch had been opened by plumbers for repairs and, according to Mr. Merritt, there were no red lights burning. Accordingly the man is looking for redress. He called on City Attorney Keller yesterday in regard to the matter and the council will doubtless take the matter up with the plumber who opened the ditch.

ASHTON GRADUATION DREW LARGE CROWD

SENIORS TENDERED A SUCCESSFUL RECEPTION AND BANQUET BY JUNIORS.

BADLY INJURED IN A RUNAWAY

Son of August Degner Horribly Cut By Barbed Wire—Miss Ida Billmire in Rockford Hospital—Ashton Plays DeKalb May 18th—Opera House Dance Well Attended—Mothers' Day Was Observed.

May 14.—R. C. Damler is again in the city doing upholstering work at the Stephan furniture store.

Roland Moore was a visitor in DeKalb Saturday and Sunday.

Mothers' Day was observed by the churches in our city last Sunday. At the United Evangelical in the afternoon Rev. Walter preached a sermon appropriate to the day. Many wore the white carnation during the day, a token of remembrance of a mother who had passed away or a brighter one for a mother living. It is a beautiful custom and one that should be observed every year.

A fine new awning was hung at Kelly's hotel and restaurant the first of the week. L. T. Moore's harness shop also looks better with a new sun shade.

Henry Wallace and Henry Hogue went to Belvidere Monday to accept positions as freight handlers, most of whom are now on strike.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church will give a supper in the church dining room on Tuesday evening, the 14th. They have earned the reputation of being excellent cooks and everyone will be assured of a fine feed and also be helping a good cause by attending.

Miss Cora John went to Durand for a week end visit with her sister and family, the Chas. Bancrofts.

Miss Ida E. Billmire is at present in the Rockford hospital, confined with an ailment of her knee. Miss Billmire has been troubled for some time and reports from the hospital are that she is improving, but may have to remain there for a month or longer. Mrs. M. M. Billmire was up to see her the latter part of last week.

The DeKalb high school boys will play the Ashton boys a game of baseball on our grounds next Saturday, May 18th. Our lads intended to go to DeKalb for a game last Saturday but were deterred on account of the steady rain all day.

The 14 year old son of August Degner while coming to town last Friday evening to attend the rural graduation at the opera house, met with a terrible accident. His horses ran away, throwing the boy out into a barbed wire fence, badly cutting the young man's face and hands. He was brought to the office of Dr. Brenner as quickly as possible and it was necessary to take 21 stitches in the unfortunate lad's cheek to close the wound. The boy showed unusual nerve, absolutely refusing to take an anesthetic while the doctor was doing his work. He is resting easily now and unless some unforeseen complications set in will be all right in a few weeks.

Clifford Gray of Dixon drove up in his car Friday evening. He brought up Profs. Miller, Strong and Dunlap to attend the graduation.

Dr. Stanley, the foot specialist, will be in Ashton on his regular trip Wednesday the 15th, all day and evening, at Kelly's hotel.

The dance given in the opera house by eight of our young men on Thursday evening was quite largely attended and a good time was enjoyed by all. There were quite a few from Ecchelle and an orchestra from that city assisted by John Charities of this city furnished the music.

The reception Saturday evening tendered the seniors by the juniors was a very happy affair. A three-course banquet was served and the time was spent in toasts, music and other amusements. The young folks spent a very enjoyable evening.

An anti-saloon speaker whose name we did not learn will speak at the United Evangelical church here next Sunday morning, in Bradford in the afternoon and at the M. E. church here in the evening.

Harry Billmire and Carl Greve were Saturday evening visitors in Dixon.

The graduation exercises of the rural schools at the opera house Saturday evening drew a large crowd. There were 17 graduates and each did his part exceedingly well. The music was furnished by the Lee orchestra of 15 pieces and certainly made a hit in Ashton, being encored again and again. It was the best orchestra heard in this city for a long time.

Henry Zimpel, "Pete" Ogle and Carl Greve were home Sunday from Mt. Morris where they are engaged in building bridges for M. M. Billmire.

Warren Sanders was a Rochelle visitor Saturday.

Don't forget the free stereopticon lecture at the opera house Thursday evening by Norman H. Camp, lawyer evangelist, on the Life and Works of Dwight L. Moody.

Joe Petersberger, Mr. Holliman, Max Rosenthal and George Aschenbrenner of Dixon were all here on business Thursday.

Mrs. Martha Grove of this city has been ill the past week and we were informed this (Monday) morning that her condition was very critical. Her friends hope for a change for the better soon.

CHAPTER XI.

Introducing Peter.

It was a new country to me that we traversed, a rolling country, but not thickly settled, although the road appeared to be a well-beaten track. The gleam, coupled with the rapidity of our movements, prevented me from seeing anything other than those dim objects close at hand, yet we were evidently traveling almost straight east. I endeavored to enter into conversation with the two fellows riding on either side of me, but neither one so much as turned his head in response to my voice, and I soon tired of the attempt. The night told me little of who they might be, although they were both in the uniform of the Queen's Rangers, the one called Peter on my right a round, squat figure, and bald-headed, his bare scalp shining oddly when once he removed his cocked hat; the other was an older man, with gray chin beard, and glittering display of teeth.

The movements of my horse caused the ropes to lacerate my wrists and ankles, the pain increasing so that once or twice I cried out. The fellows guarding me did not even turn their heads, but the lieutenant drew up his horse so as to block us.

"What is the trouble? Are you hurt?"

"These ropes are tearing into the flesh," I groaned. "I'd be just as safe if they were loosened a bit."

I saw him lean forward, shading his face with one hand, as he stared toward me through the darkness. I thought he drew a quick breath as from surprise, and there was a moment's hesitancy.

"Let out the ropes a trifle, Peter," came the final order.

The little bald-headed man went at it without a word, the lieutenant reining back his horse slightly, and drawing his hat lower over his eyes. In the silence one of the horses neighed, and the boy seemed to straighten in his saddle, glancing suspiciously about.

"Ride ahead slowly, Tenebaph," he ordered. "I'll catch up with you." He turned back toward me. "Who are you, anyway?"

Surprised at the unexpected question, my first thought was to conceal my identity. These were King's men, and I was in ordinary clothes—the rough homespun furnished by Farrell. If, by any chance, I was not the party they had expected to waylay, I might be released without search.

"Who am I?" I echoed. "Do you mean you have gone to all this trouble without knowing whom you hold prisoner?"

"It seems so," coolly. "We know who we thought you were, but I am beginning to doubt your being the right man. Peter, take his hat off."

I straightened up bareheaded, the faint star-gleam on my face. The lieutenant remained quiet, but Peter broke his sphinx-like silence.

"T ain't him, is it?"

"No; he must have taken the other road after all," with a slight laugh. "We've been on a wild-goose chase. However, it's too late now to catch the fellow on this trip."

Peter rubbed his bald pate, his eyes on me.

"An' what'll we do with this lad?" he answered drawlingly. "Turn him loose?"

"Bring him along. We'll find out tomorrow who he is, and what his business may be. Men are not riding these roads at midnight without some purpose."

He wheeled his horse, and, with a touch of the spur, disappeared in the darkness ahead. Peter clambered back into the saddle, and gripped my rein. "Come on," he said disgustedly, kicking the black in the side. "It's a ways yet afore yer lie down."

We rode steadily, and at a good pace. Occasionally the older man swore solemnly, but Peter never uttered a sound, not even turning his head at my attempts to draw him into conversation. The situation mystified me, but it became more and more evident that I should have to wait until morning before learning the truth. Neither Peter nor the Indian seemed to belong to the class with which the army was recruited. Peter appeared more like a well-trained servant, and his riding was atrocious. And the lieutenant! There came back to me the haunting memory that he had joined Delavan as a volunteer—the Dragon uniform sufficient proof that he was neither of the original foraging party of Hessians, nor of Grant's detachment of Rangers. Yet these others were green and white, and must, therefore, have been in Grant's command. How did the four manage to escape from our attack, evidently animated by one purpose? Why was Grant so open, without a word, and I was led down into the basement. The flickering candle yielded but glimpses of great rooms, beautifully decorated, and, almost before I realized what was occurring, I had been thrust into a square apartment, the door behind me closed and locked. The two guards left the sputtering candle, perhaps a third burned, behind, and I heard them stumbling back through the darkness to the foot of the stairs. I glanced about curiously, shaking the loosened rope from my wrists, my mind instantly reverting to the chance of escape. Whoever these fellows might be, whatever their purpose, I had no intention of remaining in their hands a moment longer than necessary. Somehow their silence, their mysterious movements, had impressed me with a strange feeling of fear which I could not analyze. I could not believe myself a mere prisoner of war, but rather as being held for some private purpose yet to be revealed. Yet the room offered little promise. It was nearly square, the walls of stone solidly imbedded in mortar, the door of oak, thickly studded with nails, and the two small windows protected by thick iron bars. It was a cell so strong that a single glance about convinced me of the hopelessness of any attempt at breaking out.

It Was a Cell So Strong That a Single Glance About Convinced Me of the Hopelessness of Any Attempt at Breaking Out.

I was not there to exceed ten minutes when, without warning, the lock clicked, and Peter came in. I sat up quickly, but as instantly he had closed the door, and actually stood there grinning cheerfully. I would never have believed him capable of so pleasant an expression but for the evidence of my own eyes.

"Spring lock," he grumbled, a thumb over his shoulder, "opens outside."

Whatever resemblance to a soldier he might have previously shown while in uniform was now entirely banished. Bareheaded, his bald dome of thought shining in the candle-light, his round, solemn face, with big innocent gray eyes gazing at me, an apron about his fat waist, the fellow presented an almost ludicrous appearance. Somehow my heart warmed to him, especially as I perceived the tray, heavily laden, which he bore easily on one arm, and the towel flung over his shoulder. And as I stared at him his movements became professional. Silently, solemnly, his mind strictly upon his duties, he wiped off the table top, and arranged the various dishes thereon with the greatest care, polishing cups and glasses, and finally placing one of the chairs in position. Stepping back, napkin still upon arm, he bowed silently. I took the seat indicated, and glanced up into his almost expressionless face.

"Peter, you old fraud," I said swiftly, "have you eaten?"

"Not as yet, sir," his voice showing just the proper tone of deference, his eyes staring straight ahead.

"Then take that chair and sit down," "Oh, no, sir; indeed, sir, I am not at all hungry, sir."

I squared myself, fingering the knife at my plate.

"Peter," I said, sternly, "I'm a better man than you are, and you'll either sit down there and eat with me, or I'll lick you within an inch of your life. There is food enough here for three men, and I want company."

He rubbed his hand across his lips, and I caught a gleam of intelligence in his eyes.

"Well, sir, seeing you put it in that way, sir," he confessed, almost as though in regret, "I hardly see how I can refuse. It is very flattering, sir." He drew up the other chair and sat down opposite me. "Would you care for a glass of wine first, sir?" he asked solicitously. "It has been a rather dusty ride."

WEST BROOKLYN NEWS

Henry F. and Oliver L. Gehant. The people got tired of the traveling agents who often soak the ones they insure for a lot of insurance and costs which are useless for they are gone as soon as the application is written up and if anything is found wanting or wrong with the policy when it comes the agent is never around to correct it. With a local agency this is different for they must treat the people right as they are neighbors and doing business in their midst. If anything is wrong the local agent is always ready and willing to correct it and have every thing right. It is to a local agent's interest to see that their customers get good insurance and so will not put your risk in some wild cat company where if you do experience a loss you will never get a cent on your policy. Perhaps this vast difference between a resident or local agent and these travelers has never occurred to you. These travelers never bring you anything but a local agent is here to buy what ever he needs of you and help you out. Therefore it is right that you should give you insurance to him. The Gehant agency in West Brooklyn handle old line life insurance, fire and lightning, live stock, tornado, automobile, marine and plate glass insurance. With this big list there is no need of insuring with traveling agents or outsiders. The Gehant agency will always treat you right and extend you every courtesy consistent with good, sound and safe business methods.

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. "Remember this, that our bodies will not stand the strain of over-work without good, pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil." After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This he called

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Being made without alcohol, this "Medical Discovery" helps the stomach to assimilate the food, thereby curing dyspepsia. It is especially adapted to diseases attended with excessive tissue waste, notably in convalescence from various fevers, for thin-blooded people and those who are always "catching cold."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps for the French cloth-bound book of 1008 pages. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Guthrie the Successful Specialist

Who Has Cured So Many in Illinois, Will Be at Nachusa House,

FRIDAY, May 17th

and Return Every Four Weeks, From 11:30 a. m. to 8 p. m.

CONSULTATION AND ADVICE FREE.

Consult me in strictest confidence if you are afflicted with any contracted or inherited disease. Many men from fear that their troubles may become known by consulting a physician neglect the early symptoms of disease which if properly treated in the beginning would avert a serious chronic malady and save themselves much trouble, time, money, and annoyance in after years. I have cured hundreds of men of diseases that were thought incurable, and if you have been unsuccessfully treated don't lose hope of recovery until you have seen me and gotten my opinion of your case, and I tell you that your malady is an incurable one I will be frank with you and if I see that I can do you no good, will tell you so. I never hold out false hopes to incurables. Charges are reasonable, my cures are lasting and I ask you to pay for results only.

WEAK MEN Cured Secretly

What I want is men who have tried in vain to be made strong again. I desire to explain why and how any such case can be quickly relieved and speedily cured by my method, which can be done in most instances in a few weeks at longest and in any case for a small outlay of money at most.

LOST VITALITY

Cured in a few weeks. Improvements from the start. If you suffer from loss of energy and ambition, feel tired when you arise in the morning, lame back, dizziness, spots before the eyes, and feel you were not the man you once were, I will cure you for life.

VARICOSE—Knotted Veins

Cured by absorption, no pain. The enlarged veins are due to pumps, bicycle or horseback riding, disease, tem Treatment.

I do Not Patch UP—I cure Forever

DISEASED MEN Cured Forever

I do not claim to cure a case in a few days then take weeks to relieve it and months to cure to cure it, but I do claim, and can prove it, that I can cure forever any diseased man who will come to me in time. My method is scientific and has only been based as such after years of trial and a vast experience.

BLOOD PURIFIERS

Overcome in 90 days, or no pay. Symptoms overcome in 17 to 21 days without chemicals or poison. If suffering from ulcers, sore mouth, or throat, falling hair, bone pains, come and I will drive the poison from your blood forever by my New System.

As farmers in Canada are going broke and land prices tumbling no one will buy it. I have talked and advertised for ten years that only a third or less of either the Dakotas was good for farming and the good part of S. D. too high to buy. The last two crops show what is best. Cavalier county had crops in 1910 that paid for the land and also in 1911. 1912 promises much better and I will still give you a chance to pay for a farm with one crop. As an investment land here will pay better interest on $100 an acre than land in Ill. at the prices it is selling at as there so much of the rent has to be paid out for taxes, improvements and insurance. Having been here over ten years I predict Hundred Dollar land here in five to seven years. The farmers here are buying it and they are making money faster than any other farmers in the world.

BAD MEAT PASSED

SAYS EX-OFFICIAL

Former Beef Inspector Makes Charge Against Packers in the East.

USE TYPHOID INFECTED WATER

J. W. Burroughs Tells House Committee of Condemned Carcasses Made Into Sausage After Giving Order to Throw It Out.

Washington, May 14.—The standard of meat inspection has become lower by progressive steps each year since the present law went into effect, six years ago, according to J. W. Burroughs, a former inspector of meat, who testified before the committee on expenditures in the agriculture department. At the present time, according to the witness, conscientious inspectors regard their presence in packing houses as something merely perfunctory.

"Whenever we made an objection or protest we expected to be overruled by our superiors," said Burroughs. "Meat was passed as suitable for food as long as it would hang on a hook. There was a feeling of helplessness among us, and I may say a sort of contempt for those above us. That was the feeling of the rank and file of the service when I left it last March."

Bad Meat Is Passed. Burroughs said he was appointed September, 1903, and assigned to duty in Philadelphia under Dr. Charles Schaeffer, inspector in charge of all packing establishments in that city.

"One day in the winter of 1907 or 1908 Dr. Ralph Clements, a veterinary inspector, came to the establishment of Charles Roesch & Sons," Burroughs told the committee. "We saw the carcasses of ten bulls that were to be ground into sausage. They were black and stringy and had a fearful odor."

"I'm going to see just how bad they are," I said to Clements. Then I pressed several fingers against a newly cut side. My hand sank into the meat almost to my wrist.

"We summoned Dr. Schaeffer. He examined the meat and questioned our wisdom, as he expressed it, in condemning it. I protested it would be a menace to health to pass such carcasses. Finally he ordered us to let them be. When Schaeffer left the building Clements looked at me, grinned and said: 'Oh, Burroughs, what's the use?'"

"The next day that rotten beef became sausage. It was made palatable with spices and other convenient ingredients."

Burroughs told the committee that on several occasions he attempted to gain access to the pickling and drying departments of the William Moreland & Sons' and John Michener's establishments in Philadelphia. Neither firm would permit him to see what was going on.

In Moreland's they showed him a letter from the department assuring them they would not be bothered by inspectors trying to enter their drying and pickling rooms.

Is Not Cross-Examined. Not one in the committee room volunteered to cross-examine Burroughs. "Old dairy cows, many of them tubercular, were killed for sausage meat in Philadelphia," Burroughs said. "The offal and hide piles was not more than five feet from the machine used to grind the sausage meat. The concrete floor was full of holes flush with old and decaying cattle blood. The stench about that sausage machine was terrible. Deodorants and disinfectants were scattered about every day to kill the smell. That was in place of scrubbing mops and hot water. That sausage machine will linger in my memory forever. The curing department was separated from the sausage department and the sewer basin by a swinging door."

Burroughs said he was promoted to inspector in charge in September, 1908, and ordered to the branch plants of Swift & Co. at Cumberland, Md. In August of that year a severe epidemic of typhoid fever occurred in Cumberland. The packing company was using water drawn from the Potomac river to wash and otherwise treat their meat.

"I was suspicious of that water and sent a sample to Dr. Melvin," said Burroughs.

The witness produced a letter from A. D. Melvin which said pollution could not be found in the water.

"Immediately afterwards state and municipal bacteriologists examined the water and announced that it was literally teeming with typhoid germs," said Burroughs. "All the typhoid in the town came from that water."

ACTS ON DIRECT VOTE

BILL INVOLVING ELECTION OF SENATORS PASSES HOUSE.

Measure Is Now Nearly Ready for Submission to the States for Ratification.

Washington, May 14.—After a deadlock of almost a year the house took final action on the bill providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people and the bill is now practically ready for submission to the states for ratification.

The Bristow amendment, which was the cause of the deadlock, reserves to the federal government supervision of the time, manner and place of holding senatorial elections. The final vote on the amendment was 237 to 39.

Previous to this vote the house defeated the Bartlett amendment which proposed that the house should concur in the senate amendment with the proviso that the federal government should not undertake to assert the qualifications of electors for senators in the states, and that the general government, by force of arms, or otherwise, must not interfere with elections in the several states. The Bartlett amendment was defeated by a vote of 189 to 59.

BOLD ROBBER LOOTS BANK

Lone Man Enters Institution at Broughton and Forces John Irvin,
Cashier, to Hand Over
$2,000 in Currency.

McLeansboro, May 14.—While the Farmers' Exchange bank at Broughton, a village twelve miles south of here, was crowded with patrons, a lone robber entered, fired one shot and forced John Irvin, the cashier, to hand over $2,000 in currency. Two shots were fired at the thief by the village marshal and bloodhounds were soon placed on his trail, but he easily escaped by crossing a swamp.

Young Girl Kills Herself.

Rockford, May 14.—Because her parents refused her permission to marry, Stella Swanson, fourteen-year-old daughter of Gust Swanson, roadmaster of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Gary railroad, fired a bullet into her breast and died two hours later at St. Anthony hospital. Stella had fallen in love with Ed Johnson, aged twenty-five, who came to her parents' home last January to board. Her mother refused the girl permission to marry Johnson and two months ago intercepted them just as they were boarding a train for Chicago. Since then Johnson has been at Akron, O.,
and although Stella claimed to her mother she had broken off with her lover, many letters he sent her have been found. All the letters urged her to leave her parents and come to him.
Stella's conduct the past few days puzzled her parents, but they suspected nothing when they went out for a walk and left the girl behind.
As soon as they had left, Stella, according to the younger children, sat down and wrote a letter and then went up stairs. Her brothers, Leonard, eighteen, and Rudolph, sixteen, were in another room, and did not notice Stella go into the closet of her parents' bedroom. Here she took her father's .32-caliber revolver and shot herself. She had strength enough to walk out of the closet to the bed upon which she flung herself, clapping her lover's picture and a letter explaining that she was tired of living. Her brothers came to her assistance when they heard her groans. She regained consciousness for a short time at the hospital and when her mother asked why she had shot herself she replied:
"I did it for Ed."

3,153 Hunters Get Permits.

Carlyle, May 14.—During the past year the clerks in Clinton county issued more hunters' licenses than any like period, since the law was enacted requiring resident hunters to pay a license of one dollar. The annual settlement has been completed by District Game Warden Louis G. Miller of Belleville. A total of 3,153 permits were issued. The largest number were in Carlyle, with Breese second, Huey third and Trenton fourth.
Outside St. Clair county, Clinton leads all others in southern Illinois.

Old Wreck Relic Found.

Mount Carmel, May 14.—After being lost for more than seven years,
a satchel, the property of Al Bowman, engineer on a Southern train that was wrecked at Maud, five miles west of here, and who was killed in the wreck, was dug up by section men.
The satchel contained an Elk pin, a loaded revolver and a small purse.

INVESTORS

Six Per Cent is a pretty good rate of interest to receive on small monthly payments, but we have paid this rate for over 14 years on all stock withdrawn before maturity —and a considerably higher rate on shares carried clear through.

People in the cities of New York,
Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago,
Los Angeles, Pasadena, Seattle and other large places realize this fact and send in their remittances every month.

We have stockholders in nearly every Western and Middle state as well as in a number of the eastern states.

- $2.50 each month brings at maturity.....$ 500.00

"CERESOTA" THE PRIZE BREAD FLOUR

of the world. The Government verifies relative intrinsic value of flours.
U. S. Government by Laboratory Test shows "CERESOTA" flour to be worth 14 cents to 79 cents per barrel more, intrinsically, than are other leading and extensively advertised brands. The Northwestern Consolidated Milling Co., in bidding on an Army contract, submitted a sample of "CERESOTA" in competition with other leading mills of Minnesota.
The U. S. Government after having the 5 samples, submitted by as many mills, scientifically and thoroughly tested, issued the following report as to the intrinsic value per barrel of the respective flours, four of which are designated by number.

	Per Barrel

No. 3.....	$4.75
